

When it comes to marketing communications, nothing lets you target an audience, engage them, and spur them to take action better than direct mail. Mail is also one of the most measurable marketing vehicles, allowing you to track responses and resulting sales activity to get a clear picture of your return on investment.

But 80% of direct mail success is based on the list you use and the offer you make. You can't sell if you aren't talking to the right people, and they won't respond if you don't give them a good reason. That's why you need the experts at Allegra. From words and graphics to choosing the best format, our team will manage all the details so your mail will be opened, read, and remembered.

We design every direct mail piece with an in-depth understanding of print technology, so your package will print on time and within budget. We make sure your materials meet all postal regulations and ensure that you qualify for the best postal rates. We can even help you clean your mailing database and/or assist you in renting new mailing lists so you can target the best prospects, instead of wasting postage on outdated or incomplete name and address information.
